Chrysler Diagnostic Application User Guide

Introduction

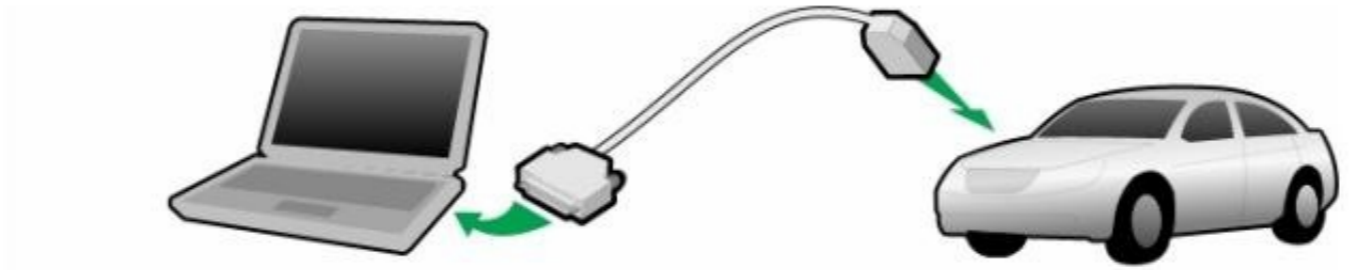

Background

The Chrysler Diagnostic Application (CDA) replaces the EDT2, both the PC and StarSCAN versions. The StarSCAN version of the CDA is supported through version E4.0X, and will end-of-life by the end of 2009. For StarSCAN CDA help and documentation, please refer to the latest user guide for E4.0X. The PC version of the CDA will continue to be supported. It's features are documented here.

System Setup

When running the CDA on a PC, a vehicle communication device (commonly referred to as a 'pass-thru' device) is also needed since the PC itself does not have the hardware necessary to communicate with a vehicle. The StarMOBILE and wiTECH service tools, CANcardX, and the Vector XL family of devices are pass-thru devices supported by the CDA. The diagrams below help illustrate the types of setups that can be used with the Chrysler Diagnostic Application.
